Communication/Distribution:

- Each of the case study was presented to members of the Programme Coordinating Board (PCB) and other partners at each PCB since the beginning of the series (printed and presented on the tables in front of the PCB room).
- Advanced unedited versions were posted online on the UNAIDS portal, then on the Transparency Portal and now on the UNAIDS website in their updated forms (https://www.unaids.org/en/unaids-in-focus-series_people-living-with-and-affected-by-hiv-realize-human-right-to-health).
- Case studies have been used along the way in bilateral discussions between UNAIDS and donors, as well as by various departments and Country offices/Regional offices in their discussions with partners.
